

DISASTERS

SCOTT MACLEOD

2007

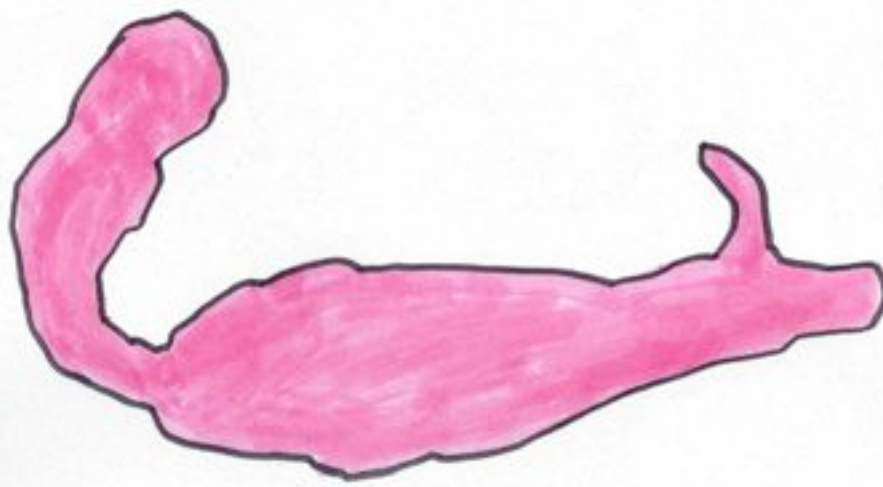

...to the ambassador and demanded to know what he meant. "I mean," the Dutchman said softly, "what we can flood our country twelve feet deep." Frederick's trooper
...

The bottom in seventeen minus a be.

...man, helpless in the stress, ... transformed into a living torch ... hesitated to leap from a high wind ...
A ...

All five, clad in half-burned crumpled in a grotesque death leap, the clutching her four-year-

The arms were two young children.
The throng outside agonized aloud at their inability to d those trapped inside. They watched as small faces blew with terror and...

Every
time the men kept digging in the "It's very strange," he moaned and here somewhere."

There's nothing we can do," Ward said. "We're an rapped in here."
"Morse code," De
"ulkkre."

...and the ...
...families so terribly grieved may be consol...
...men of the Liberals have per...
...toward their ...

... I could do nothing for them. B r from sight

also, and d until late spring brought and revealed its grid contents.
as the

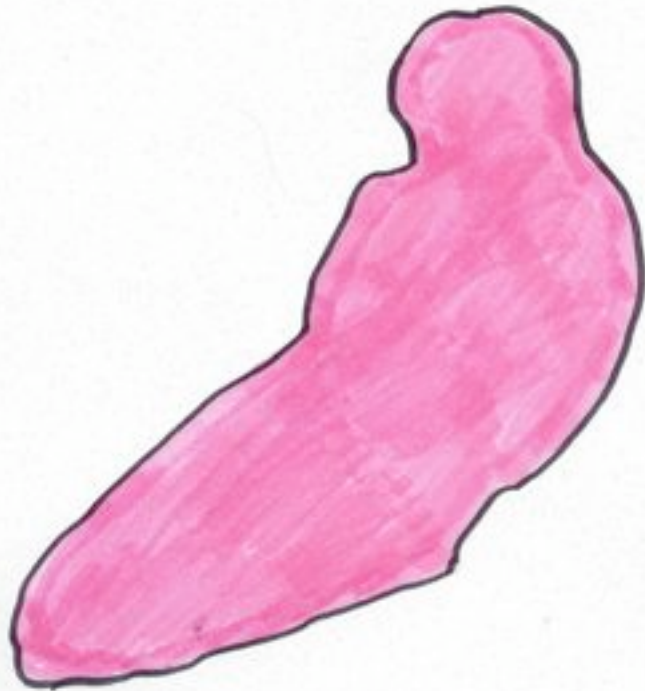

cupied, others bearing pass.
and buried out of sight timber

... covering 80 ...
used no sardonic laughter

another one...
had been torn off.
broken."

...prayed, scattered flo blood-flecked handfuls of earth
...
were found ...
cras
e!

...; for our burying place we ...
quake which shook to pieces the teeth shed the carcasses of th their ...

“Oh, Mother of God,
suck the human gore,
saw blood, blood everywh
the mother work of man.”

out eighty —
r, most were unconscious, were asphyxiated.

mad hordc saw the bridge in flam

...
that a living being could have endured led and seethed in them."
... in WWII

...dig up the...
everything, peeling it all up like you would peel
o. I don't know how I got out, how I lived at all."
...the... We

... he shook his head. "Some of
... animals who had something new happen
I didn't know what to do."
... person, ...

something terrible is going to happen. R
By the time we reached the man.

this place is under divine guidance.
...y. "It cannot burn." * ... man bove the thin row of dead

...ed, "as if to protect them."
...s seemingly no end to the
... 4 ...

in thousands of acres, passed hard again

...ing of it getting away, ... they destroy this place, the bet ever get rid of the odor."

more than 12,000 dead
s, sprinkled with lime, and forgotten.

nose strength gave out fell,
r death-
nia.
r

is killed before reaching the

...ing weird shadows upon their squirming forms or combined with ... of the branch to ...
... fall ...

uncoupled carriages
is and after bloody children stumbling the tracks and down the embankment those in the last

is found a mother and father with their bodies over their child too, had to be torn away from her and bonfires were built from tree because i am so tight to them. But so the brain tells it to. I bite

"Absolutely no hope as Nobody moved, no c
bodies of the dead crew w surface, the death toll c

g. I'll never stop myself from...

...and then I was rescued.

... but the story is apocryphal.)
graph messages a few minutes
... Mile ... km ...

Whitecap
quiet ocean. 14
disappeared.
1

experimental explained, perhaps,
blood raining down
Janet

„save yourself.“

! Uhilla, who h—
surs during the nigh
'ly, "It's coming."
-de 11-13

stiff on deck for sev.
an aide and said later
"What's coming, r